

Many Christian democrats thought it would be better for the Christian Democratic Union to participate in elections without any alliance .