

A photograph of a classroom scene. A teacher, a woman with long brown hair wearing a red shirt and a light-colored cardigan, stands on the right. A young student, a girl with dark hair wearing a white shirt and dark pants, is seated at a desk on the left. Red bounding boxes are drawn around the teacher's face and the student's face. Two red lines connect the center of the student's face to the center of the teacher's face, illustrating a gaze interaction. Other students are seated at desks in the background.
