

Passage

RAF Lindholme.

By 1985 the whole camp was sold and turned into Lindholme (HM Prison). The last RAF connection, an automatic routing installation, which opened on 25 May 1983 and was run by 840 Signals Unit was closed in March 1996. It occupied the old Northern Radar building ground floor, refurbished to accommodate the Telegraphic Automatic Routing Equipment (TARE) and a manual telegraphic switching centre and was parented by RAF Finningley.

Generated conversation

$s_0$  I'm an automated assistant. I can tell you about RAF Lindholme.

$x_1$  What eventually happened to RAF Lindholme?

$s_1$  By 1985 the whole camp was sold and turned into Lindholme (HM Prison).

$x_2$  So it's no longer used by the RAF?

$s_2$  The last RAF connection, an automatic routing installation, which opened on 25 May 1983 and was run by 840 Signals Unit was closed in March 1996.

$x_3$  What was 840 Signals Unit?

$s_3$  It occupied the old Northern Radar building ground floor, refurbished to accommodate the Telegraphic Automatic Routing Equipment (TARE) and a manual telegraphic switching centre and was parented by RAF Finningley.