

A new concept occurs within a short time.

An old concept incrementally changes to a new concept.

An old concept may reoccur after some time.

A new concept gradually replaces an old one over a period of time.

Old and new concepts appear periodically

