

Unshocked CSM shell and disk-like torus with pre-existing dust being destroyed by SN radiation and the CSM shock

Blueshifted component is observed as the redshifted component is blocked by photosphere.

More redshifted component is seen, as the photosphere recedes.

Newly formed dust
The redshifted component weakens as new dust forms in the CDS, the line shifts blueward.