

Edge is added if two objects are observed together for three times.

New object is added into the graph