

Object-Oriented Programming(OOP)

Prompt:

First, write a WDS class using the Python language. Then, within the WDS class, create a public function called without_duplicates to implement finding the length of the longest substring in a given string s that does not contain any duplicate characters.

class, public function