The proje ct was initiated by Napoléon III, who wished to cl ean up the slums and bring "green lungs" to produc e healthy air for the city and improve the aesthet ics and image of Paris. Designer Jean-Charles Adol phe Alphand transformed the site of an old refuse dump and quarry site within the new industrial are a of the 19th arrondissement, into Parc des Buttes -Chaumont (Komara, 2013). The design of the park e ngaged new construction techniques and new materia ls, such as irrigation systems, hydraulic pumps, t ree-planting machinery, new uses of concrete, and more. Alphand played along with the theme of the E xposition Universelle, which was Industry, in the idea that some things found in nature look artific ial, but what's new looks organic (Komara, 2013). » After World War II, the industrial city shifted
