

Writing Style = -1.25

... 2012, In : Carbohydrate Polymers. 88, 4, p. 13 73-1377 5 p. # Funder, E. D., Jensen, A. B., Tørring, T., Kodal, A. L. B., Azcargorta, A. R. & Gothe lf, K. V., 5 Mar 2012, In : Journal of Organic Chemistry. 77, 7, p. 3134-3142 9 p. # Kristiansen, M., Kryger, M., Zhang, Z., Voigt, N. V., Birkedal, V. & Gothelf, K. V., 2012, In : ChemPlusChem. 77, 8, p. 636-642 7 p. # Rangnekar, A., Zhang, A. M., S hiyuan Li, S., M. Bompiani, K., Hansen, M. N., Got helf, K. V., Sullenger, B. A. & Labean, T. H., 201 2, In : Nanomedicine: Nanotechnology, Biology and Medicine. 8, 5, p. 673-681 9 p. # Ke, Y., Voigt, N . V., Shih, W. M. & Gothelf, K. V., 2012, In : Jou rnal of the American Chemical Society. 134, 3, p. 1770-1774 5 p. # Keller, A. C., Bald, I., Rotaru, A., Cauët, E., Gothelf, K. V. & Besenbacher, F., 2 012, In : A C S Nano. 6, 5, p. 4392-4399 8 p. # M asini, F., Kalashnyk, N., Knudsen, M. M., Cramer, J . R., Lægsgaard, E., Besenbacher, F., Gothelf, K. V. & Linderoth, T. R., 10 Aug 2011, In : Journal o f the American Chemical Society. 133, p. 13910-139

Writing Style = -0.42

... he era of super computers and super technologi es, the Media is considered as the mirror of the m odern society. better living . Knowledge and skill s gained in your college courses may be directly a plicable in your first job, but science and techn ology change at a rapid pace. Chemistry is importa nt for studying certain behaviour of chemicals in our world. In a world without chemistry, explains Science Week, humans would never have invented liq uid oxygen, a key component in rocket fuel. This i nformation can be used to give plants the best nu rients to help them grow or to decide how to dispo se of chemicals without poisoning the air or water supply. ACC 100 Select which audience you belong t o and we'll display quicklinks and announcements t ailored to you. THE ROLES OF ACCOUNTING ON BUSINE S AND OUR SOCIETY MARCH 4, 2014 Even in times when unemployment rates are high, the chemist remains o ne of the most highly sought after and employed sc ientists. # "Wha a gu on?" "Wat's up?" "Que pasa?" "Hoe gaat het?" "Wat's popping?" "Sak pase... .. C

Writing Style = 0.63

... cracy. #  « The directions of research have to be planned in a transparent way and submitted t o democratic deliberation. » OK. But it is better t o add some space of free research for the scienti sts themselves, allowing them to study some fields where they feel there is hope of discovery. Useful results may come by indirect ways, and therefore r esearch must not be 100% planned. #  Furthermor e we must beware that the planning proposals could cover censorship of some fields : groups may propo se discarding research in some fields not really b ecause they think money would be more useful elsew here, but because they are afraid this research co uld lead to unpleasant results. #  Ferey underl ines how useful may be diversity among the scienti sts. But she omits an important parameter : the i ntellectual training. When all the scientists in a field have the same training, conformity is much e asier to get. If for instances the sociological st udies are made by people of different background - psychological, biological, historical, economical

Writing Style = 1.48

... ption of the continuity and importance of Plat onism, could imagine. # In this post I want to ref lect on my namesake's own remarks about translatio n (in his preface) and on the formatting and meta-textual aspects of Johnson's translation (includin g his notes). I will also say a little about the c ontents of his volume. Let me begin by quoting fro m the very beginning of his Preface. # The English language, by reason of the poverty of its philosop hical vocabulary, is inadequate to fully express t he deep insights of the Platonic thinkers. Their b ooks are in a "sealed dialect" to the many, in any language, and to the mere verbal Greek scholar as well as to those who are innocent of Greek they ar e unintelligible. Chemistry, Biology, and the othe r natural "sciences" have technical vocabularies, and Philosophy, the Science of sciences, has a voc abulary peculiar to itself, and this must be maste red before one can apprehend philosophic conceptio ns. Philology alone will not furnish a key to the thought of Plato and the Platonists. (p. I) # T. M

Facts & Trivia = -0.96

... l International Conference on Software Enginee ring & Applications Global Science & Technology Fo rum 01/01/2010 01/31/2013 01/01/2010 01/31/2013 Y Y Singapore Available Now BDW6 # Priority Report A nnu al Report of the United States National Advisor y Committee for Aeronautics Book Collection (H.W. Wilson) 01/01/1919 01/01/1919 United States of Ame rica Available Now D2IA # Core Academic Journal 00 66-4200 Annual Review of Information Science & Tec hnology John Wiley & Sons, Inc. 01/01/2013 02/28/2 015 01/01/2013 02/28/2015 Y Y United States of Ame rica Available Now 11G # Core Academic Journal 136 7-5788 Annual Reviews in Control Elsevier B.V. 01/ 01/2002 Y United Kingdom Available Now OMA # Pri ority Magazine Anthropological Series (University of New Mexico) Journal Collection (H.W. Wilson) 01/03 /1936 01/05/1937 Available Now D2ID # Core Trade P ublication 1860-5230 Antriepraxis Dokumentation - und Informationszentrum (DIZ) Munchen GmbH 11/01 /2014 10/31/2016 11/01/2014 10/31/2016 Germany Ava ilable Now HL5P # Core Academic Journal 1446-1811

Facts & Trivia = 0.06

... he fact that Bunce # and West made intensive u se of various instruments to # measure psycholog ical well-being and job strain might be # consider ed a source of concerns about ecological validity, # though this is an area in which most if not all qu antitative # research is likely to be implicated. # A fourth issue that we might want to raise relat es to the # question of replicability. For example , Pugh et al. (1968) # lay out very clearly the pr ocedures and measures that were # employed in the Aston studies and these have been used by # severa l other researchers seeking to carry out replicati on of # this research, both in business and non-bu siness organizations, including trade unions, chur ches, schools, and public bureaucracies. Consequen tly, the research is replicable. # However, analys is of the same data by Aldrich (1972) and # Hilton (1972) using a different statistical technique sho wed # other possible patterns of relationships bet ween the variables in the Aston studies (see Web R esearch in focus 4.6). # This failure to replicate

Facts & Trivia = 0.97

... get regulated out of existence." # # Cuppoletti' s research focuses on modeling the sound that come s out of turbines and finding ways to reduce that noise, using strategies such as changing the confi gurations of rotors, shielding them in tubes, and adding other tweaks. His lab uses an anechoic cha mber, covered on all sides by sound-dampening mat erial and outfitted with a suite of eight microphone s, to test the frequency, wavelength and amplitude of sound. The models he and his students are creat ing will eventually be part of a guidebook that ma nufacturers of drones and flying cars can use to a nticipate what their novel designs will sound like . # One way to reduce the unwanted impacts of thes e vehicles is to route them over roads, which are already noisy, said Antonio Torija Martinez, who s tudies the impact of drone noises on communities a t the University of Salford in Manchester, England . # In 2019, he published a paper that asked parti cipants to rate noise from drones when they were i nside a virtual reality headset with a range of di

Facts & Trivia = 1.87

... 1998), Dao, Harmakhis, and Reull Valles (Price , 1998; Mest and Crown, in press), Hadriaca Patera (D.A. Crown and R. Greeley, map in preparation), a nd western Hellas Planitia (J.M. Moore and D.E. Wi lhelms, map in preparation). We incorporated some of the previous work, but our map differs markedly in the identification and organization of map unit s. For example, we divide the Hellas assemblage of Greeley and Guest (1987) into the Hellas Planitia and Hellas rim assemblages and change the way unit s within these groupings are identified # Geothetic s and Forensic Geology # Donnelly, Laurance # The International Union of Geological Sciences (IUGS), Initiative on Forensic Geology (IFG) was set up in 2011 to promote and develop the applications of ge ology to policing and law enforcement throughout t he world. This includes the provision of crime sce ne examinations, searches to locate graves or item s of interest that have been buried beneath the gr ound surface as part of a criminal act and geologi cal trace analysis and evidence. Forensic geologis

Educational Value = -0.58

... $749,900 # OAH TEEN PREGNANCY PREVENTION PROG RAM GRANTS July 2015 Capacity Building to Support Replication of Evidence-Based TPP Programs (Tier 1 A) Grantee City State Award Maricopa County Phoeni x AZ $749,999 Colorado # STATE SUPPLEMENTAL NUTRIT ION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM PARTICIPATION RATES IN 2009 FOOD AND NUTRITION SERVICE # Responsibility and Wo rk Opportunity Reconciliation Act.... STATE SUPPLE MENTAL NUTRITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM PARTICIPATI ON RATES IN 2009 FOOD AND NUTRITION SERVICE Recen t studies have examined national participation # GW La w Alumni Elective Courses Survey # GW Law Alumni E lective Courses Survey About You 1. Year of gradua tion (if you hold multiple degrees from GW Law, pl ease select your most recent graduation year) [dro p-down list included 1925-2010] 2. Practice # Supp lemental Health Insurance Products Inventory Repor t, May 2014 # Supplemental Health Insurance Produc ts Inventory Report May 2014 1 Health Insurance Op tions for the Uninsured In May of 2014, Gallup est imated that 13.4% of Americans were uninsured, whi

Educational Value = 0.53

... ntists. # Hence that central idea of Fichte's philosophy was born, the idea of a # general scien tific doctrine, a theory that, unlike Kantian logi c, would set # out principles that were really sig nificant for any application of thought # This sci ence would set out laws and rules equally binding on both think- # ing about thinking and thinking a bout things. Thinking about thinking, # i.e. logic , must provide a model and example of observation of the principles # of thought (the principles of scientific scholarship) for the other # sciences i n general. These principles must remain the same b oth when # thinking was directed to phenomena in m athematics, physics, or anthropology, # and when d irected to concepts, i.e. to itself. # For a conce pt was just as much an object of scientific study as any # other object; the more so that we only kn ew any other object scientifically # insofar as it was expressed in concepts, and in no other way. Th at meant # that to determine or define a concept a nd to determine the object were # absolutely ident

Educational Value = 1.45

... tive to the cycle of nature that articulates t he struggle to define a pattern of ecological rela tionships, in the form of the Labyrinth. The laby rinth comprises a dichotomy. On the one hand a un icursal model articulates structure as a series of c oncentric loops that act as boundaries and lead to ward a point of illumination. This model incorpora tes the cycle of nature within a more complex sche me than McCoppin's seasonal model of regeneration. On the other hand the labyrinth in multicursal fo rm comprises a maze that resists regularity, replac ing certainty with choice leading either to contin ued progress or dead-ends. The labyrinth as a symb ol of alienation, disorientation and confusion cap tures the ambition of ecological readings of quest s to reconcile humanity and nature. I apply the ec o- labyrinthine model to my reading of two of the twentieth-centuries most popular quest fantasies, J.R.R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings and Philip Pullman's His Dark Materials. The following stud y shows that an eco-labyrinthine approach to reading

Educational Value = 2.28

... today." This is in contrast to a participator y approach: "What would you like to do about Sarah 's vaccinations today?" # Foster resilience by pla nning ahead # To build public support for vaccines , there is a need to foster trust not only in vacc ines, but also in the health system in general and in immunization programs in particularFootnote 18. Events that can undermine trust and drive negative vaccine concernsFootnote 40Footnote 41Footnote 42 include the following: # The addition of a new vac cine, resulting in an increase in the number of va ccines being recommended # A new emerging side-eff ect for a particular vaccine # A lack of consisten cy in vaccine recommendations (for example, from o ne province to the next) # Research has identified that it is useful for public health professionals t o work through a specific communications approach for each of these situations ahead of time, so tha t there can be a quick and constructive response t hat dispels concerns early. For programs at the co mmunity level, there are three key areas to consid

Required Expertise = -0.75

... nce in organizational leadership. # Yufei Jing , a Bachelor of Science in organizational leadersh ip. # Hang Ju, a Bachelor of Science in organizati onal leadership. # Siwei Kang, a Bachelor of Scien ce in organizational leadership. # Yu Kong, a Bache lor of Science in organizational leadership. # Mi ng Lai, a Bachelor of Arts in political science. # Lei Lei, a Bachelor of Arts in political science. # Yunchang Leng, a Bachelor of Science in organiza tional leadership. # Bitian Li, a Bachelor of Scie nce in organizational leadership. # Ce Li, a Bache lor of Science in organizational leadership. # Jia hang Li, a Bachelor of Science in organizational l eadership. # Jiayu Li, a Bachelor of Science in o rganizational leadership. # Jieli Li, a Bachelor of Science in organizational leadership. # Mengtong L i, a Bachelor of Science in organizational leaders hip. # Mingjin Li, a Bachelor of Science in organi zational leadership. # Shuang Li, a Bachelor of Sc ience in organizational leadership. # Shuhui Li, a Bachelor of Science in organizational leadership.

Required Expertise = 0.24

... served as vice-president of the Simon Fraser U niversity Faculty Association (SFUFA), and from 197 0 to 1971 he served as SFUFA's president. During h is time on the SFUFA executive, the university und erwent a period of unrest culminating in the strik e of eight faculty members in the Political Scienc e, Sociology, and Anthropology (PSA) Department. A fter the Board of Governors fired three of the sus pended professors and cancelled part of the univer sity's document protecting faculty rights, the SFU FA executive called for a vote of non-confidence i n the Board and SFU President Kenneth Strand. When faculty members rejected the executive's recommend ation, Mackauer and three other members of the exe cutive resigned. # Collection consists primarily o f the SFUFA president's correspondence during the PSA crisis. In addition, there is some corresponde nce concerning other matters of interest to facult y members such as salary negotiations, pensions, a nd sabbatical leave. Records include correspondenc e, clippings, notes, minutes, legal statements, re

Required Expertise = 0.95

... nent analytical units. # Einführung in die qu alitative Sozialforschung, eine anleitung zu qual itativem denken mostyn, barbara (1985). Figure 3 s hows the steps of deductive category application. S ince then mayrings works seem to have become stand ard literature on qualitative content analysis and some regularly appear in new editions (e. # This w ill help to refine the data collection plans with respect to both the content of the data and the pr ocedures to be followed. Finally, those category d efinitions are put together within a coding agenda . Gläser and laudel (1999 2004) criticize that the closed, ex ante determined category system is only adapted to the empirical material in a first proce ss cycle with only part of the texts a procedure th ey disqualify as methodologically arguable and tec hnically too elaborate (p. # Therefore, case stud ies offer the opportunity for a holistic view of a process (patton & appelbaum, 2003, p. Especially t he combination of qualitative methods and quantita tive methods seems to be appropriate in order to g

Required Expertise = 1.59

... g the Middle from the Extremes # Maitreyanātha 's Distinguishing the Middle from the Extremes (Ma dhyañtaviḥāga) was transmitted to us by the noble Asaṅga, great saint and champion scholar of fourth century CE Indic Buddhism—along with Vasubandhu' s commentary on the text. It is one of the five semi nal texts of what the Tibetans call the "magnific ent deeds tradition of universal vehicle Buddhism, according to its spiritual focus and ethical impac t. Its emphasis on the nondual, primarily mental n ature of reality most powerfully supports the grea t messianic vow of the bodhisattva, the entry into the universal vehicle lifestyle. In his study intr oducing the translation, Dr. D'Amato analyzes and elucidates the teachings of this text and its asso ciated school with great learning and insight. (So urce: Tibet House) # D'Amato, Mario, trans. Maitr eya's Distinguishing the Middle from the Extremes (Madhyāntaviḥāga): Along with Vasubandhu's Commen tary (Madhyāntaviḥāga-bhāṣya); A Study and Annota ted Translation. Treasury of the Buddhist Sciences