

Ingredients: The person oiled the baking dish with oil as opposed to vegetable ghee. Score: 4/5

Tools/Equipment: The oil was applied to the pan with a pastry brush instead of bare hands; The baking dish used was a glass baking dish as opposed to ceramic.

Score: 3/5

Actions: The person skipped pressing the dough mixture into the baking dish after oiling it. Score: 3/5

Tools/Equipment: The person mixes the cream mixture with green spatula instead of red. Score: 5/5

Actions: The person continuously mixes the cream mixture instead of folding then shakes off the spatula. Score: 3/5

Visuals: The cream mixture has a thick and clumpy consistency instead of smooth and runny. Score: 2/5

Ingredients: The person only cooks the regular potato fries as opposed to 6 varieties of potato fries. Score: 4/5

Actions: The person skips transferring the potato fries in the tray. Score: 3/5

Visuals: The potato fries has a regular yellow color contrary to having green, red, orange and brown fries. Score: 2/5

Tools/Equipment: The dough was flipped using a fork rather than a tong; The dough was deep-fried in a steel pan instead of a non-stick pan. Score: 3/5

Technique: The dough was flipped once as opposed to three times. Score: 4/5

Visuals: The deep-fried dough appears to have a flower design and has holes on it as opposed to full and lumpy. Score: 3/5

