

The Multiple Prism Dispersion Effect

By arranging multiple prisms in sequence, the dispersion effect is amplified. Each color of light is further refracted and dispersed. This process can be repeated with additional prisms, leading to a much more pronounced separation of colors.

Please share your opinions on this topic: ...