

Question: Which is a compound sentence?

- Choices:
- The camera isn't working, so the battery must be dead.
 - The artist prepared a canvas for a new oil painting.

Dataset

The first sentence is the compound sentence. It is made up of two simple sentences joined by a comma and the conjunction so. The camera isn't working, so the battery must be dead.

MM-CoT_{Base}

The first sentence is the compound sentence. It is made up of two simple sentences joined by a comma and the conjunction so. The camera isn't working, so the battery must be dead.

Feedback on MM-CoT_{Base}

The first sentence, "The camera isn't working, so the battery must be dead," is a compound sentence. It consists of two independent clauses joined by the coordinating conjunction "so".

ARES

The first sentence, "The camera isn't working, so the battery must be dead," is a compound sentence because it contains two independent clauses (The camera isn't working and the battery must be dead) joined by the coordinating conjunction "so." The second sentence, "The artist prepared a canvas for a new oil painting," is a simple sentence because it contains only one independent clause.